On Jan. 4, WorldVentures and NXT-ID, Inc. announced a strategic alliance to develop a proprietary new wireless smart card for its Members, based on NXT-ID's Wocket® smart wallet technology.

According to WorldVentures, "Over 22,000 Independent Representatives came together to celebrate past successes, look ahead to the next decade with innovative new technologies and travel products, and give back to the Orlando community."

During the conference, WorldVentures introduced the DreamTrips smart card, being developed exclusively for them by NXT-ID, that will be customized with additional technologies and wireless features, such as the ability to seamlessly integrate with the WorldVentures DreamTrips App to wirelessly check in and earn loyalty points towards free DreamTrips vacations at select restaurants.

WorldVentures currently has approximately 500,000 DreamTrips Members, with as many as 80,000 new Members joining every month. The vision of WorldVentures' executive team is to make the smart card available to every existing Member, and provide a Member kit to every new Member that includes the smart card purchased from NXT-ID.

In the presentation to Members, it was demonstrated how the new smart card, just like the Wocket card designed to replace all the cards in your wallet, the new DreamTrips card will make travel and vacationing simpler and more secure.

David Tunnell, Executive Vice-President and Chief Technology Officer for NXT-ID was invited onstage during the smart card presentation. He said, "We received an overwhelmingly enthusiastic and positive reception at the convention. It was quite an experience being in front of tens of thousands of people and witness the support for our smartcard technology."
